

● COMMUNICATION AND CULTURE LAB: COMANDALUCÍA

INTRODUCTION

The Communication and Culture Lab COMandalucía is an interdisciplinary research group at the University of Málaga born in 2009, with the commitment to work in promoting a critical research dedicated to generate more horizontal and inclusive communication models. The group aims to be an observatory of public and associates local media to contribute their knowledge and better functioning of them, focusing on citizen participation and implementation of local information. During this time, their works are backed by projects supported by the regional and national institutions.

RESEARCH TOPICS

- Indicator of social value of the Media.
- Mapping of public and private broadcasters.
- Study of community radio and participatory communication.
- Communication, Development and Cooperation.
- Democratization of communication.
- Public policies and communication.
- Decoloniality and epistemologies.

SCIENTIFIC-TECHNICAL SERVICES

- Technical advice on participatory and socially responsible media configuration.
- Support for the construction of indicators of social profitability of the media.
- Designer service for creating new communication projects.

RESEARCH GROUP LEADER: MANUEL MIGUEL CHAPARRO ESCUDERO
PAI CODE: TIC015

CONTACT

PHONE: 952 132 915

E-MAIL: mch@uma.es | WEB: <https://com-andalucia.org/>

ADDRESS: Facultad de Ciencias de la Comunicación. Campus de Teatinos, s/n. 29071- Málaga